Contents

Editorial 131

The Royal Naval Reserve Medical Branch—Past and Future
Surgeon Commander N. A. Malcolm-Smith RD MB ChB FFARCS RNR 133

My Story—Sinking of HMS Gurkha January 17 1942 W. M. Brown MD DPH FFA RCS 137

Microbial Identification by Gas Chromatography
Dr M. A. White BS, DPhil, Surgeon Commander M. D. Simmons MSc Lond, MB ChB, MRCPath RN, A. Bishop AiMDS and Surgeon Commander H. A. Chandler MSc MB BS MRCS, LRCP, MRCPath RN 141

Do we survive with Survival Suits?
R. Herrmann 147

Actigraph measurements of Work/Sleep Patterns During a Navy Operation
C. J. Brooks, D. J. Shergold, D. P. Redmond, R. G. Angus and R. J. Hesegrave 153

The Influence of Peridontal Screening upon Dental Hygienist Practice in the Royal Navy
Surgeon Commander (D) A. J. Woodman BDS, MSC RN 165

Some Haematopathological Features of Marathon Running
Surgeon Lieutenant Commander C. Pipkin MB BS RN 173

Toe Temperatures During Dartmoor Training
Surgeon Lieutenant Commander S. P. L. Travis MB BS, MRCP RN 181

A Description of the Outbreak of Meningitis in HMS Raleigh
Surgeon Commander C. W. Evans MB, BS, MFOM, MPH, RN, Surgeon Commander B. E. Lambert MB ChB, MRCOG RN and Dr P. N. Gaunt BSc, MBBS, MRCPath 187

Poisonous Fish and Seasnakes in the Arabian Gulf
Surgeon Lieutenant G. L. Greenslade MB BS RN and Leading Medical Assistant M. Furnell 195

Book Reviews 199

Letters to the Editor 203

Obituary 207

Service News 209